RAILROAD HEADS REFUSE TO ACCEPT PRESIDENT'S PLAN

Assert Demand is One of Wages and Not Shorter Hours--Say That Weight of Public Opinion Must Determine
This Issue

Washington, Aug. 22.—"Inconceivable in a democracy like ours"—that was the reply of the railroads last night to President Wilson's plan for settlement of the strike crisis, after Mr. Wilson had made his strongest appeal to 50 railroad presidents.

After hearing the President at the White House, the presidents—and leading figures in American rail transport—went into conference with the managers and late Monday night, Eliza Lee, chairman of the national conference committee of the railroads, with the approval of the presidents issued a statement in which he said the President's proposal that the 8-hour day should be granted without arbitration "is inconceivable in a democracy like ours." After giving a summary of the railroads' arguments for arbitration the statement concluded:

"The weight of public opinion must determine this issue. We cannot believe that it is the calm judgment of the country that we should sacrifice the principle of arbitration in industrial disputes and under a threat to the commerce of the country."

The railroads' statement reflects the attitude of the presidents and was issued by the conference committee, because that is authorized to speak for all the railroads of the U. S., while the presidents can speak only for the roads they represent.

The defiance of the railroads came as a distinct shock to the capital, where it had been believed that the presidents had been on the verge of advising the defiant managers to give in to the Wilson program for the 8-hour day.

On the shoulders of eight of the biggest railroad executives was today placed the responsibility for the consideration of the railroads of President Wilson's approval to avert the threatened railroad strike. A big group of railroad presidents delegated to a committee. The committee was given no authority to formulate a counter proposal to Wilson or to definitely recommend acceptance or rejection of the President's demands. The committee was named, it was announced for consideration of the questions involved. The committee went to work at once. They proposed to confine the discussion of the situation by the railroad presidents to the bare essentials and to this end they endeavored to eliminate all collateral questions. The committee will lay before the railroad executives a statement of the conditions which must be met. The members of the committee are Hale Holden of Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad; W. W. Atterbury, Penn. railroad; Fairfax Harrison of the Southern railroad; R. S. Lovett, Union Pacific railroad; R. P. Hupley, Atkinson, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad; Alfred R. Smith, New York Central railroad; Frank Thum-bell, Chesapeake and Ohio railroad; Daniel Willard, Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The committee is in continual session considering the situation but it is understood that no conclusions have yet been reached. Hopes for an early settlement of the situation waned today. The railroad executives are determined to give the matter full and complete consideration.

LEAGUE GAMES TO START AT FIVE FORTY-FIVE P. M.

Sunset League Directors Issued New Orders Last Evening to Take Effect Tonight.—Morley and K. of C. Played Scoreless Tie.

Because of the impossibility of the baseball teams to play the scheduled five innings in the Sunset League before darkness makes playing a source of danger to the men, the directors of the league decided at a meeting last evening that the remaining games of the season would begin at 5:45 p. m. instead of 6:00 o'clock as at present. The new order goes into effect at once, the game this evening between the Marines and the Coal Company being the first to be played under the new orders.

Last evening's game was called at the end of the fourth inning by Umpire Paul, when he realized that it would not be practicable to play another full inning. The game was a corker as far as it went, resulting in a scoreless tie between the Morley Button Company and the Knights of Columbus. Both teams played errorless baseball for the four innings, the pitchers working well and the teams playing like champions all of the way through. The pitchers broke about even on home runs, Moran and Kelley doing the best work. Kelley fanned four of the Morley batters, and Moran made the number five. Kelley was hit for a double and Tommie Pilgrim beat out his infield hit to third for a single. Moran passed one man and allowed one hit; Wilkinson, the first man up for the Knights making the safe single.

This is Wilkinson's first appearance on the diamond since he was injured several weeks ago by being hit by a throw ball as he was sliding back to first base after a big lead. The blow broke his jaw and he was out of the game since that time. Wilkinson was given a royal hand when he stepped to the plate for his first attempt and he came through with a savage wallop over short for a pretty single.

Several fast plays were completed, keeping the interest high throughout the game. Moran made a beautiful stop and throw to first to retire Baldwin in the fourth, with Tommie Pilgrim starting for home from second at the crack of the bat. McWilliams made a pretty stop and throw on Moran's grounder in the third and Sarrotta's play, retiring McDonald at first after a hard hit grounder. Moran made three fine catches in left for the Morley team, one of them being little short of actually robbery. Jack Thompson's running catch off Kelley in the second was also pretty fine, robbing him of one headed down the path.

Although the game was a scoreless tie the directors awarded the game to the Knights of Columbus for a violation of Rule 6 section 1 of the bylaws.

This Game

1st Inning.—McDonald and Heffernan were fanned. Pilgrim was thrown out at first on a grounder, Kelley to Wilkinson. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

Wilkinson hit to left for a single. M. Reardon running for Wilkinson, was thrown out at second. J. Bailey to McDonald, attempting bunt. O'Brien walked. Moore hit to Moran in left. Bennett was fanned. ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

2d Inning.—Thompson out at first on a grounder to Wilkinson, unassisted. Baldwin hit to center for two bases. J. Bailey flied to O'Brien in left. P. Timmons grounded out to Wilkinson. ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

Thompson made a fine catch of Kelley's hard fly. M. Reardon flied to McDonald. P. Bailey grounded out at first. McDonald to Heffernan. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

3d Inning.—Moran fanned. Moran out on a grounder. McWilliams to Wilkinson. McDonald out at first. Sarrotta to Wilkinson. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

McWilliams fanned. Sarrotta flied to Moran. Wilkinson struck out. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

4th Inning.—Heffernan fanned. Pilgrim beat out his hit to McWilliams, and stole second. Thompson flied to Sarrotta, the ball coming down close to the first base line. Baldwin out on a play to first. Moore to Wilkinson. ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

O'Brien flied to Moran. Moran and Bennett struck out. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

MINUTES IN MANHATTAN

New York, Aug. 21.—A fine looking 16 year old girl just out of the public school, whose parents are poor and do not speak English well, is worth $400.

That is one of the revelations in the confession of Yimbo Duwin, leading white slave trader, with whose assistance Asst. District Attorney James E. Smith, so long ago with the authorities in large cities throughout the country hope to stop the leaders of this frightful business behind the bars.

In 1912-13 a powerful vice trust was discovered here. Several of its leaders were put in jail. Exchanges were made in newspapers, magazines, books and even theatres. It was quite generally believed the trust in young girls was broken up.

But today we learn that the business is still going on with many of the old leaders still at work, but using more refined means.

The old methods of serving "knock-out drops" and other means used to have been outlawed. They were found dangerous and unnecessary.

Instead the vice trust leaders have agents, usually women, watching "school girls" between 14 and 16 years of age.

These girls speak English well, have lost the foreign appearance of their parents and constitute the cream of the trade.

A careful study is made of their home life. Only such girls are approached as are found to have unattractive surroundings and whose parents are ignorant of American laws and customs.

Once a girl is selected as a likely candidate, the young men called "cadets" employed by the vice magnates set out to turn her head.

Making her acquaintance is often done in the moving picture houses. Duwin named two picture shows which he said were run by their proprietors especially for this purpose.

The girl is then taken to dances where she has a gay time. Automobile rides to Coney Island follow, and perhaps a fine meal at a glittering restaurant. Incidentally the cadets contrast their life with her home conditions and she is made dissatisfied.

The only hint of force comes just after the cadet has decided to ruin his victim and take her from her home forever. She is hurried to another city in a nearby state and there she is coaxed or enticed into writing a letter to her parents saying she has eloped and is very happy. Like is not the old folks believe this story.

The girl is now entirely in the captors' grasp. She is given very little of her earnings—this is given to the slavers who own her. A few weeks later the slavers consider it safe to bring her back to New York.

Here she is put into a resort under an assumed name. She begins to realize what has happened and usually is too ashamed to reveal her story, even if not too terrified to make a complaint.

District Attorney Smith has found it necessary in many cases to keep such young victims apart from their associates for ten days or two weeks before they finally are willing to tell their history.

Botwin says he knows at least 3000 school girls of New York who have been lured to a life of shame in the last ten years.

THE RIGHTS OF AMERICAN CITIZENS DO NOT STOP AT THE COAST LINE

"When I say that I am an American citizen, I ought to say the proudest thing that any man can say in this world. But you can't have that pride if it is not worthy of protection this wide world over. There is no man who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's rights stop at the coast line and that beyond that American life is to be the prey of any marauder who chooses to take it."—From a speech of Mr. Hughes in the West.

Several young ladies about the beach assisted the local players in tagging the people and it was through their activity that so much money was received. A thorough canvass of the surrounding places was made and the occasion was a truly successful one.

TWO NEW MANUFACTORIES EXEMPTED FROM TAXATION

One Shoe Company and the Kraus-Millett Leather Company are Granted Ten Year Exemptions by City Government.

At the special meeting of the Portsmouth City Council held at the call of the Mayor on Monday evening, resolutions were passed which will prove of great importance to the citizens of the city, when they are exempted from taxation for a period of ten years, the capital new machinery and new buildings of two new industries. The new firms are Kraus-Millett Leather Company and the New Castle Shoe Company; both to become corporations under the laws of the state of New Hampshire. It is expected by those acquainted with the members of the two corporations that they will add greatly to the industrial value of the city and the resolutions were passed through the meeting without opposition when the vote was taken.

The meeting was called to order by the Mayor, Councilmen Borthwick, Matthews, Haynes, Hiett, Paterson and Sullivan being present. Communications from the two firms, asking the exemption of taxes, were read by the Mayor and the resolutions, drawn up by Hon. William B. Marvin, were presented for discussion. On the invitation of the council, Messrs. William P. Cass, representing the New Castle Shoe Company; and Edward L. Millett, representing Kraus-Millett Leather Company, addressed the meeting, giving in detail a great deal of their plans.

Speaking for the New Castle Shoe Company, Mr. Cass explained that his firm, Cass and Daly, had chosen Portsmouth as the best possible location in New England for the establishment of their new factory. It was their intention to build a factory here and plans had already been approved when they learned that the Widder Brothers were desirous of selling. The machinery of the Widder Shoe Company and their plant has been taken over by the new firm and operation will be started by them within a few weeks.

Mr. Cass explained that the purchase of the Widder Brothers plant has saved them fully a year in starting operations here. It would have taken them several months to erect their proposed plant; many months, under existing labor conditions to establish a satisfactory force; and owing to the great manufacture of war munitions, the purchase of machinery is now difficult. In speaking of labor conditions in this city, Mr. Cass stated that he had made a careful study of the subject and had learned that Portsmouth had a large number of young men and women being graduated from its high school every year, with no business opportunities for them to accept. He said that he realized that Portsmouth would give him a steady influx of bright, well educated, ambitious young people ready for the opportunities he could offer and the young men and women would then be forced to leave their native city to obtain satisfactory employment.

Mr. Millett explained his proposition, the manufacture of "velvet leather," a product now used greatly in the manufacture of clothing. They have taken over the old foundry building in the rear of the machine shop in the west end, will incorporate under the name of The Kraus-Millett Leather Company and intend to start operations here as soon as possible.

Cass and Daly a Live Concern

The New Castle Shoe Company is to be a close corporation, all of the stock to be owned by William P. Cass and Joseph E. Daly of Salem, Mass. Cass and Daly are one of the biggest shoe firms in Salem and in that city they are now successfully operating three shoe factories and in addition several factories in other sections. The Portsmouth factory will make their fifth shoe factory.

Both Messrs. Cass and Daly are practical shoe makers, having worked in the business for a number of years. Mr. Cass was a live young man in Salem, working in one of the factories a few years ago, and was one of the most popular young men in the city. In 1900 he was appointed Postmaster of Salem, by the late President Grover Cleveland. He served there for four years until 1904. For this office he received a large salary for a young man, saved his money and at the expiration of his term he and Dr. Daly went into business together. Their capital was limited, but with some cash borrowed from Mr. Daly's father and the money Mr. Cass had saved, the firm of Cass and Daly purchased a shoe factory. They took many chances, worked their limited capital for all it was worth and prospered. In 1902 they removed to a new factory which they had built for themselves since that time they have created and are operating two other factories in Salem, being next to the cotton mills, the largest manufacturing concern in the city. They employ over 1200 hands in Salem alone.

Mr. Cass has served on the Salem School Board for the past twenty years and served several terms in the city council. It is the intention of Cass and Daly to manufacture in the Portsmouth factory nothing but boys shoes. The Widder machines are built for the manufacture of women's shoes and with the changing of needles and some of the cutting dies, they will be ready to start on the day that the Widder Company quits operations. With the transfer of the plant to the new concern, the Widder Shoe Company releases all of its help and the employees will continue work in the same factory without loss of a single day. Mr. Cass was pleased at this arrangement as the question of getting sufficient help to start was bothering him to a certain extent.

They will very likely send to the Portsmouth factory, their best brains from their other factories as foremen, until the new plant is running in a satisfactory manner. The shoe to be made here for boys has a large sale in the west where the demand for this class of shoe is very great. "New Castle Shoe Company" will be but the trade name for the shoe and it will be made exclusively in the Portsmouth factory.

"Velvet Leather"

Mr. Millett, in an interview with the Chronicle last evening, explained in some measure the new industry to be established by the Kraus-Millett Company. They are to engage in the manufacture of one of the greatest leather specialties in the world, the manufacture of a leather used in making women's clothing. This leather is made from the finest calf skin obtainable, tanned by a special process, the patent and secret being in the possession of Herman Kraus, now making this leather for a concern in Westfield, Mass. Owing to several deaths in the concern in Massachusetts, Mr. Kraus is coming into the new firm with his secret. The third member of the Kraus-Millett company is Albert L. Kraus, now associated with Mr. Millett in the chemical end of the business, located in Portsmouth.

This "Velvet Leather" is the softest leather known in the world and is being used in making opera cloaks and other garments for women, auto coats, trimmed with fur, and tops for shoes. These garments are being sold by cutters and tailors in New York for as high as $600 each. They will also tan leather for the more common known shoes.

Mr. Millett has a lumery at Peabody Mass., and had been long in the leather business with Mr. Albert Kraus. Mr. Kraus grew up in the business and in addition to being an expert workman in the industry, he understands the chemical end of the business, having made this a special study in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mr. Millett is another one of the big business men of Salem. For a number of years he has been treasurer of the Salem Savings Bank, Treasurer of the Salem Hospital, and is associated with other public institutions.

The resolutions passed at the meeting grant both concerns a ten year exemption on new capital, new machinery and additions to the buildings, beginning with April 1, 1917, with the exception of their proportionate parts of the state and county taxes, which the city is obliged to levy. The action of the council is similar to their action on other occasions, notably that of the new industrial enterprise now under construction by the Morley Button Manufacturing Company.

The meeting adjourned after the passing of the resolutions and the regular meeting of the council will be held on Thursday, Aug. 31.

WILL GET $80,000 TO EDUCATE BLIND

This to Come From Will of John Nesmith, Late of Lowell.

The State of New Hampshire will receive the sum of $80,000 for the aid, support, maintenance and education of indigent blind as the result of a compromise of the will of John Nesmith of Lowell approved on Saturday by Judge Crosby of the supreme court of Massachusetts.

Mr. Nesmith who died in 1869 set aside $80,000 and certain real estate, the income of which was to be paid to his widow and children during their lives and upon their death to the State of New Hampshire.

The matter reached the court on questions as to the administration of the estate. Mrs. Nesmith died about two years ago but the children still survive. Under the compromise agreement real estate in Lowell owned by Mr. Nesmith is to be sold for $121,000 and after deducting New Hampshire's share the balance will be held for Nesmith's heirs.

AUTO VICTIM AT HAMPTON IS IMPROVING

MISS FARWELL REMAINS AT EXETER HOSPITAL BUT HER CONDITION SHOWS GREAT GAIN

Miss Ethel Farwell, 17 Elm street, Cambridge, Mass., who was injured in an automobile accident at Hampton Beach Saturday, and for whose recovery grave doubts were at first entertained, is reported better last evening at the Cottage Hospital, Exeter, where she was taken Saturday night. Miss Farwell, 17, of Cambridge, another of the party, was in a critical condition at the Anna Jacques Hospital in Newburyport. They and three others were injured, and Miss Mae P. McNetish, 26 Reynolds avenue, Chelsea, was killed, when the car in which they were riding collided with another which contained a physician, Dr. Henry Thompson of Hampton, and chauffeur, who were hurrying to answer a call.

NEW YORK LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

JOBS FOR CONTRIBUTORS.—The attention of your correspondent is called to the fact that there is a disposition in some quarters to go far too far in criticizing the awarding of political jobs to contributors to the Wilson campaign fund. It is pointed out that there is nothing intrinsically bad in giving a good place to a man who has contributed to the presidential campaign fund. What is bad is the appointment to important offices of men without the ability to give good service, merely because they were contributors to the campaign fund, and the displacing of men who are rendering especially good service, or serving with skill in peculiarly difficult positions, merely to make room for what Secretary Bryan termed "deserving Democrats." No more striking example of what is condemned had occurred than the displacement of Ambassador Herrick, at Paris. Mr. Herrick was rendering service so extraordinary for its efficiency, under the most delicate and difficult circumstances, that he had competed the unqualified admiration not only of the French, but of the entire European diplomatic corps. He was the energetic, sympathetic, skillful friend of the thousands of non-combatant citizens of the Central powers who were detained in France because of the war and were in dire need of the services which he so freely rendered them. And Mr. Herrick was displaced to make room for an amiable gentleman from Indiana without either experience or qualifications but only "a deserving Democrat."

THE FUNSTON DISCLOSURE.—The unintended but fortunate disclosure of Gen. Funston's emphatic recommendation that Gen. Pershing's command be withdrawn from Mexico has revealed another important phase of the Mexican situation which the administration had earnestly sought to suppress. Since April 11, Gen. Pershing's command has been kept in Mexico, in constant danger from attack, not permitted to advance, without reinforcements, to the injury of its health and morale, because—President Wilson could not make up his mind, either to continue the pursuit of Villa or to withdraw. In the effort to shift responsibility for any military disaster which might occur Mr. Wilson and Secretary Baker have persistently avoided asking the military authorities for their opinion, but they inadvertently asked Gen. Funston for his views in connection with the proposed Mexican conference and the courageous little Kansan, without regard to how unwelcome his words would be to Mr. Wilson, came back with a flat-footed recommendation that the troops be withdrawn from Mexican soil. The administration tried vainly to suppress the fact that Funston had made this recommendation, but it leaked out and knowing Funston they do not dare deny it. Pershing, it will be remembered was ordered into Mexico to "break up the Villa band of bandits." Mr. Wilson said "to get Villa"—following the raid on Columbus, on March 8. The punitive expedition was brilliantly led and had nearly captured Villa in the Sierra Madre range when, on April 12, the Carranza forces attacked the American troops, killing and wounding several. The Wilson administration immediately became panic stricken, ordered the pursuit abandoned and a "watchful waiting" policy adopted by American troops in enemy country. In great danger and at great expense, the Pershing line into Mexico has been maintained ever since although if he was not to forward he had no reason for being there and should have been ordered back. Pershing was then 600 miles below the border. Finally, he was secretly ordered to withdraw to Naniquipa, 260 miles below the border. The retreat of the American soldiers emboldened the Carranzistas again to attack them, at Carrizal, on June 21, where two officers and a number of troops were killed. Arrested Carranza's Ambassador, informed President Wilson that the Carranza soldiers fired by order of "the First Chief." Again the administration became panic-stricken and Pershing was secretly ordered to retreat to Colonia Dublan, 130 miles below the border. As every military man knows, although few dare say it, Pershing has been kept there for no reason whatever save that Mr. Wilson has been unable to make up his mind and because he has feared popular criticism on the one hand, if he appeared to yield to Carranza's demand that the American troops be withdrawn, and on the other, loss of the belief of some of the uninformed voters, that "he has kept us out of war."

MAINE PROSPECTS.—Hon. Ralph D. Cole returned from Maine today, where he attended the Republican campaign, enthusiastic over a Republican prospect. Mr. Cole declares that Republicans and former Progressives are working hand in hand; that there is perfect loyalty to Hughes and absolute coordination of effort. He is loud in his praises of the Republican candidate for Governor, Carl M. M. M., who commands the respect and support of the people and who is making an excellent campaign. "Maine has always been noted for its patriotism," says Mr. Cole, "and the men who shouldered a musket in '60 and '61 are filled with indignation at Wilson's weak and vengeful and unpatriotic conduct of our relations with Mexico. You find magnificent specimens of American manhood in Maine, men who are Americans first, last and all the time, stern, manly, rugged, and it makes their blood boil to hear of American men murdered, American women outraged and American soldiers treacherously shot down while the President of the United States, fearing that any step will hurt him politically, contents himself with writing notes and arranging for a 'conference' with those responsible for the wholesale murder of American citizens. Maine is as certainly in the Republican column as it ever was in our history."

THE STRIKE SITUATION.—New York continues to be confident that the threatened railway strike will be averted, although Washington reports a deadlock between employers and employees. President Wilson has demanded that the railroads adopt the 8-hour day in principle and leave the question of any increase of wages to arbitration. It is evident that President Wilson's influence is diminished by the conviction of both sides that he is trying to play politics with this issue, a conviction that detracts from respect for his advice. The controversy is in many respects so technical that it is difficult to outline it in few words, but it is encouraging that all the big financial experts expect a peaceful solution.

THE SHIPPING BILL.—The Senate has passed the McAdoo-Wilson Shipping bill and it now goes to conference. It has been shown of some of its worst features, but still serves some highly desirable purposes. Its passage will "save the President's face." It will provide a number of securities for "deserving Democrats." First come the members of the Shipping Board, with salaries of $7,500 each, then all the secretaries and employees. Then it appropriates $30,000,000 out of the Treasury, and every experienced politician knows how convenient it is to have $30,000,000 to expend on the eve of a Presidential election. Oh yes, it's a fine bill.

A GOOD VETO.—President Wilson has vetoed the Army bill and in so doing has done wisely. It is a pleasure to find something this administration has done which can be frankly praised, and everyone familiar with the facts and not involved in the personal dispute between General Leonard Wood and General Fred Ainsworth, retired, appreciates that this is a good veto, and one made necessary by the attempt of the Democratic chairman of the Military committee, Rep. Hays of Virginia, to destroy military discipline in order to enable a friend to vent his spleen. The clause which called forth the veto relieved retired officers from liability to service and from military discipline. It was designed simply to enable Gen. Ainsworth to publish a book attacking his time-honored enemy, Gen. Wood. Possibly Rep. Hays should not be too severely blamed, because it is upon just such broad national lines that so much of the legislation of this administration has been based.

"Food Is Its Own Best Digestant"

"All too frequently, we prescribe medicines for patients who suffer from indigestion, when, as a matter of fact, what they actually need is a simple course of dietetic training, and the proper food-stuffs to train on.

"This is the famous 'reason' for the popularity of Grape-Nuts as an article of diet, viz., that it furnishes this very course of training for the digestion. It not only furnishes the natural diastase for the process of digestion, but it favors a return to normal digestive function because the firm, crisp kernels compel thorough mastication.

"One ought not to leave out of consideration the psychic element—the delicious treat to the palate afforded by a dish of Grape-Nuts and cream."

Portsmouth, N. H., Tuesday, August 22, 1916.

Too Much Law.

More than once in the past this newspaper has ventured to assert that one of the curses of this country is too much law. And that it is not alone in this view was made very plain a few days ago at the annual convention of the National Electrical Contractors' Association in New York. John R. Galloway of Washington, D. C., president of the association, in the course of his remarks said that "only men who have looked a payroll in the face should be sent to Congress." The meaning of this was that so many laws affecting business are passed by the national law makers that in many instances business men are injuriously affected without corresponding benefits to the public.

Another speaker, Edward Trafke, field secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, said: "England has awakened, and in the last ten years her parliament has passed only 1,500 laws, but we are law crazy. In the last five years our national and state law making bodies have passed 62,500 laws, forgetting that the Lord Almighty for the guidance of mankind saw fit to provide only ten laws."

Nothing is more certain than that the American people are as nearly law crazy as it is possible to be. Laws are piled upon laws until, if their bodies were material, the pile would mount to Heaven. There are laws to regulate big things and laws to regulate little things. The people are fairly enmeshed in law, though many do not realize it, so little is the attention paid to many of the laws.

And for this condition the people themselves are largely responsible. The state legislatures and Congress are besieged from the opening to the close of their terms by individuals and organizations demanding new laws. In too many cases the demands are granted, and thus the statute books grow larger and more cumbersome and it takes a shrewd and wide-awake lawyer to know what the law is. The average man knows little about it and cares less, with the result that law breaking is more common in the United States than in any other nation on the face of the earth.

What this country needs is fewer laws and better enforcement. As it is now, when a man is convicted of violating the law courts and juries are so well aware that scores of others equally guilty have never been called to account that there is a disposition to exercise leniency to an extent that is demoralizing. There is wide room for reform in this field. Less legislation and a higher regard for the laws on the statute books would constitute a vast improvement.

Another "engagement" in Mexico. A Mexican officer gave chase to a railroad brakeman and was ordered to stop by an American lieutenant. The Mexican turned on the officer and was shot dead, and the officer was exonerated. If operations can be kept down to that scale it will be worth something to both countries.

The federal health authorities are prepared to do what they can in combating infantile paralysis, which is cutting such a swath in some parts of the country. According to present conditions there is room in this fight for all the talent available, and the best talent that can be mustered.

A New York man who died recently left four wills, and it is believed that all of them are invalid. The only way to be sure where one's money is going is to dispose of it while living. Will busting is as common as trust busting in these days, and fully as successful.

The men who take naval training will not be asked to do mental work on the ships. It is expected if they ever enter the navy they will become officers, and their training will be with that end in view. There will be no deck scrubbing for them.

It is now claimed that labor is not a commodity, but there was a time not so many years ago when labor leaders were stoutly asserting that it was a commodity, and the most important one in the production of practically every article.

The navy people are wondering where they will get the skilled mechanics to turn out the warships ordered within the time specified. There will certainly be good times ahead of American machinists for some years to come.

The citizen soldiers in the Plattsburg camp want to be sent to bed at 10 o'clock instead of 10.30. How different from what they are at home.

A perfect form does not necessarily guarantee long life. A young Chicago woman whose form was considered absolutely perfect recently died in Denver of tuberculosis.

KEYES STRENGTH SHOWING STEADY GROWTH IN STATE

His Candidacy Has Made Very Great Change in the Situation.

Concord, Aug. 22.—A year or more ago two gubernatorial candidates were mentioned in the press, those of Albert W. Noone, democrat, and Horace W. Pillsbury, Republican. As it was 12 months or more before the primary and as both had been candidates before, neither announcement occasioned surprise or comment. Both Democrats and Republicans said it was too early to consider candidates and both were content to await the coming of other aspirants into the field.

During the time intervening between the summer of 1915 and this summer, Mr. Pillsbury and Mr. Noone have done what they could to forward their candidacies with indifferent success. The voters were not ready to foreclose their opinions and say so long in advance and without any choice as to candidates, that they were ready to accept either as the head of the party. As the months wore on, however, the question began to be asked, "Is no one else going to file for the Republican and Democratic nominations?"

This question became more acute as presidential candidates were considered in the early spring. Many Democrats were outspoken for the nomination of John R. Jameson of Andover and Concord, and great pressure was brought to bear upon him to consent to the use of his name in the primary against Noone. Failing in this, these Democrats turned ex-Senator John C. Hutchins of North Stratford, who had been defeated by only two votes by Noone in the primary of 1914, Mr. Hutchins in due time entered the race.

As to Mr. Pillsbury there was no more response to his candidacy by Republicans than there was to Noone as a candidate of the Democrats. One veteran Republican said soon after Pillsbury's announcement in reply to the question if the latter was to be the only candidate, "Let Pillsbury be governor for the next six months. Either he will be convinced that the voters do not want him or they will be convinced that he is impossible as a candidate. Unless he has radically changed he will do some indecent thing that will satisfy Republicans that he is not of gubernatorial size."

The campaign—if the intermittent discussion of the several months which preceded Henry W. Keyes' announcement of his candidacy can be called a campaign—drifted along with occasional information, given by the visitors in Concord, of public feeling. Mrs. Hutchins reported that there was little in the candidacy of Pillsbury. It created no enthusiasm. A question frequently asked by Republicans was "Have we got to take Pillsbury?" Others said, "Let's take him and hold his personal candidacy."

A third class even went so far as to say, "If he can conduct a campaign free of personalities, without airing his grievances, we would be inclined to give him support."

At the same time there was a well settled conviction among Republicans that they preferred some other than Pillsbury as a candidate.

The entrance of Keyes as a candidate immediately changed the situation from one of apathy to one of enthusiastic interest. Keyes was favorably known throughout the state as an efficient public servant, because of his long service as a member of the House and excise commissioners, while his record had been exceptionally satisfactory. His experience as a member of the legislature in both branches for several terms, had made him familiar with state affairs.

Possessing a winning personality he made friends easily. He had been previously mentioned as a candidate for governor and was strongly urged to enter the race four years ago. It was a case where the office had caught the man rather than the man the office.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Bound to Kill the Goose

(From the Boston Herald.) A few executives of leased railroad lines are intent upon killing the Boston & Maine goose, in spite of repeated warnings concerning the utter unsoundness of such a slaughter. In that, of course, they are aided and abetted by certain politicians and others who adhere, for various reasons, to the theory that they can best conserve the interests of leased railroads by having the bulk of their mileage in other states by doing irreparable injury to a whole system.

By just what process of reasoning they reach that conclusion it is im-

CURRENT OPINION

Preparedness? Yes. If America is to play any worthy part in the gigantic conflict of ideas which will disturb the world long after the war of forces has spent itself it is high time America made ready for that struggle.

But the readiness for which I plead on this occasion and in this presence is the preparedness of the American mind, the preparedness of the American conscience, the preparedness of the American will.

To America in the new day of the new world the desolated war nations look for leadership in those policies and programs that make for international peace.

From the United States must go out that Gospel of good will and that law of international service in which is the hope of Europe's redemption and through which alone can come peace to the world.—By Dr. J. A. Macdonald, Editor of the Toronto Globe.

possible to say. Perhaps some of them have a process which could not, without maiming their excellent reputations for integrity, be made public. But it is certain that the time is near at hand when, once and for all, it must be determined whether the Boston & Maine goose shall be killed and afterwards dissected in an expensive receptacle, or whether it shall be so handled without resort to lampshading that it will begin to lay eggs again for the whole family—smaller eggs, perhaps, and not so golden, but entirely healthful and invigorating.

Fleeing Prosperity is Fool's Paradise

(From Portland (Ore.) Telegram.) "When we contemplate industrial and commercial conditions," says Mr. Hughes, "we see that we are living in a fool's paradise." This is the condition to which the administration and its supporters have deliberately closed their eyes. When the war cloud broke over Europe, this country was experiencing the most serious depression it had known since 1893, when the Democratic party and its policies were in full control of the United States.

Suddenly there came from over the sea a demand for munitions of war, clothing, food, supplies, everything needed by vast armies and by countries whose sons were taken from the field, and the workshop, never to return.

As a result our exports and the balance of trade in our favor have reached figures far surpassing any ever before known. Temporarily, especially in the East, there is no lack of work at high wages, for Europe must pay whatever price American asks. No thoughtful person would imagine that this condition is anything like real prosperity. How false it is, we in Oregon, who have the clearer vision, because not clouded by the smoke from munition factories, have fully felt and fully appreciated.

What the Republican candidate for president says about it the Democrats know to be true.

"Our opponents promised to reduce the cost of living. This they have failed to do, but did reduce the opportunities of making a living. Let us not forget the conditions that existed in this country under the new tariff prior to the war. Production had decreased; business was languishing; new enterprises were not undertaken; instead of expansion there was curtailment and our streets were filled with the unemployed."

The suspension of these conditions is not nation-wide, only sectional, and depends upon the duration of the war. Those who think otherwise are, indeed, living in a fool's paradise.

Hughes's Labor Record

(From the Boston Herald.)

When Mr. Gompers, remembering only that he is a Democrat and forgetting that he is a leader of organized labor, ventured to assert that Mr. Hughes is unfriendly to labor because he concurred in the unanimous decision in the Danbury hatters' case, he ventured on very thin ice. The Chicago Tribune promptly reminds him that an honest judge must apply the law as he thinks it is, not as he thinks it ought to be; and asks him to tell those who look to him for political advice something about the record of Mr. Hughes as Governor. Read what the Legislative Labor News, the official organ of the New York Federation of Labor, said editorially when Mr. Hughes left the Governor's chair at Albany for his place on the supreme court. Here it is:

"Now that Gov. Hughes has retired from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged without hurting anybody's political ears that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the Governor's chair at Albany. During his two terms he has signed fifty-six labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any state."

"He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his messages to the Legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the Legislature."

"Only 162 labor laws have been enacted in this state since its creation in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of these, exceeding in quality all of the others, have been enacted and signed during Gov. Hughes's term of three years and nine months."

Let organized labor take to heart what the Chicago Tribune says on this point: "Mr. Hughes is no demagogue and no visionary. He is a man of courage and conscience, and if labor cannot confide its cause to its rock-bottom Americanism there is something wrong with its cause."

After the War Europe Will Look to America for Leadership in Peace.

PEOPLES' OPINION

Says Mayor and Council Should Act

Editor.—From time to time I have read the several articles in the columns of your paper touching on the conditions of Daniel street and I must confess that there has been no exaggeration. I cannot understand why such a state of affairs is allowed to exist. In conversation with one resident of that street I was informed that the only time that a window is open in the houses is when the wind is not blowing, and after all traffic is stopped at a late hour at night. Can any one imagine a city with its principal municipal building buried up in dust and dirt where many people are obliged to go to do business, say nothing of the hundreds of summer visitors to the navy yard and the historic St. John's church, and the suffering inflicted on the residents of the street through the lack of interest on the part of a board of public works that has since its first inauguration antagonized everything that is good for the city and lead the different departments of the city to a point of insurrection? It does seem that there ought to be some pride left in Mayor Ladd or members of the city council to arouse them and force the street department to take away the dirt from the street and send a sprinkler over it during the day.

It is understood that the navy officials will, on the completion of the Army and Navy Home, go after this matter, but why wait for them? Why not go after these Lord High Executioners right here in the city? And if they continue to carry on the deaf ear movement, put an end to their political career and iron-hand ruling in the ballot box in December.

New Assistants in Bureaus

Assistants to the chiefs of two naval bureaus will be formally designated by the secretary of the navy by virtue of new personal legislation. For many years there has been need of these assistants, but for some reason nothing was accomplished in that direction.

In the bureau of yards and docks, Civil Engineer A. L. Parsons will be the assistant to the bureau.

Or will be designated as assistant to the bureau. An assistant is also authorized for the judge advocate general and it is expected that Lieut. Commander Adolphus Staten will serve in that capacity, as he is the senior officer on duty under Captain Ridley McLean.

War Game Starts

The war game of the Atlantic fleet began at 7 o'clock this morning off the coast. The local radio station was in close touch with the fleet's movements during the day in case the navy yard was to be called into the maneuvers. The game will continue for ten days.

Busy Days for Navy Yards

"There has never been a time when so many men were employed at the navy yards as now," says Secretary Daniels, "and the large program this congress will authorize will make it necessary to increase the number of skilled workmen in our ten navy yards. The number of employees in July, 1916, is 24,383 as compared with 16,898 on June 1, 1913, before the new policy of building ships and making other material in navy yards was adopted. The total daily pay roll as of June 1, 1913, was $46,027.35, as against $75,091.12, the total daily pay roll as of July 1, 1916. The average daily wage prior to June, 1913, was $2.73, while the average daily wage of July, 1916, was $2.97, an average increase per day of wages of twenty-seven and four-tenths cents per day."

Will Lose No Pay

The department has issued an order which directs that all workmen, members of the Union Veterans

FLEET PUTS TO SEA FOR MANOEUVRES

Twenty-Seven Ships Sail Out of Narragansett Bay to Participate in War Game.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 22.—The guns of the battleship Pennsylvania boom a salute to Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight, the umpire, and naval acrobats circled about in the sky as 27 ships of the Atlantic fleet, many of them carrying civilians who enlisted for a naval training cruise steamed out of Narragansett bay yesterday to engage in a war game that is expected to bring into operation the greatest number of battleships ever assembled off this coast for strategic purposes.

The ships that sailed yesterday will join 16 battleships and other units of the Atlantic fleet, the major portion of which under the command of Admiral Henry T. Mayo will be the attacking force in the war maneuvers which begin this afternoon. The Atlantic reserve fleet with submarines and three divisions of destroyers, also carrying civilians among the crews, will be the defending fleet and will be commanded by Rear Admiral James M. Hein.

Following the Pennsylvania with Admiral Knight aboard, were the flag ship Birmingham of the destroyer force, the flagship Baltimore of the mine-laying force, the cruiser North Carolina, mother ship of the aerial force and the mine-laying supply ships and destroyers.

According to plans for the war game which were made at the Naval War college, the maneuvers will extend on Aug. 28, unless one side is defeated before that date. All ships are due in Narragansett bay on the 28th, and many of them will sail three days later for the southern drill grounds.

Union will be allowed the necessary time off without loss of pay to attend the National Encampment at Gettysburg, Pa.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Why, G.H., old shipmate, how are you?
You've changed, got thin and wrinkled, too.
Your hair, what's left of it, is gray
And there is physical decay
In your appearance. Have been ill?
You surely look it, dear old G.H.
When last I saw you, you weren't slow.
But then, that's forty years ago.

Don't recollect your shipmate Jim.
You used to say was spy and liar?
Remember the old Challenger?
Well, you and I were mates on her,
And when she sank in Henged Bay
The underwriters did not say—
Because, of course, they did not know,
'Twas scuttled, forty years ago.

I think your brain is clearing, G.H.
Your recollection's may still?
Remember in the China Sea,
Of being chased by Chinese junkies,
Whose crew would not have stopped,
The skunk!

'Till they had sent us all below
The billows, forty years ago?

Ab, what a chase that was that day!
The good old Sands was drenched with spray.
Our starboard tacks were foul aboard
And at her bows the foam just roared.
The junks sailed, well and off we thought.

The heathens surely had us caught;
Five chasing almost in a row,
'Twas thrilling, forty years ago.

You know how well the ship behaved
And how the nearest junk we shaved,
As those that tried to grapple fell
There overboard, with shrieks of h—!

That was, I think, the closest call
We ever had. Those pirates all Would surely have made chase that morning, forty years ago.

I knew these scenes would bring you back
The memory you seemed to lack,
Shake hands again, old shipmate! We
Are wearing out and soon will be Old hulks, like those of ships, they say.

In the Sargasso sea away,
It might be only now heaving
The hopes of forty years ago!

KITTERY

At Sugrue's for Wednesday only—
High grade men's union suits, 90c, summer weight.

The community was greatly saddened by the death of Mrs. Virginia Williams, wife of Leslie L. Williams of Love lane, at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. She was aged 16 years, having been born in Virginia Nov. 8, 1870.

Mrs. Williams was calling at the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Charles Gidden, about 10 o'clock Monday morning, and while there was taken ill and suffered a shock. A doctor was called and she was removed to her own home. At noon she became unconscious and remained so until the end. It is a very sad affair, especially as her young daughter, Dorothy, is at the Portsmouth hospital, where she recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. She is survived by a husband, two daughters, Dorothy and Elizabeth, two sisters, Miss May Priest of Savannah, Mass., and Mrs. Emma Lacy of Scottsburg, Va., and five brothers, Charles and Edward Priest of Springfield, Mass., Ralph of South Hill, Va., Edward of Scottsburg, Va., and Ernest, residing in California; and two nieces, the Misses Lena and Gertrude Ryland, who made their home with her. Her sudden death came as a great shock to her family and friends, as she appeared to have been in good health previously. The sympathy of the community is extended to the sorrowing family. Mrs. Williams was very prominent in church and lodge circles. She was a member of the Christian Endeavor Society connected with the Second Christian church, and has held several offices. She was also a member of York Rebekah Lodge, being a Past Noble Grand, and at the time of her decease was a member of the degree staff. She was also connected with Piscataqua Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, being a Past Worthy Matron of that order. The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, from her late home, Love lane. Rev. Edward Hallett Macy, of Ogunquit, a former pastor of the Second Christian church, will officiate. Carpenter's Mate P. T. Morrison, attached to the U.S.S. Hannibal, is passing the week in New York City and Washington, with friends.

Stevens of Wells, candidate for Congress in the first district, will also be present and address the meeting. The public is cordially invited, and it is hoped a large crowd will attend and give the speakers a hearty welcome. A brass band will furnish music.

It was heard in Dover, Portsmouth, Greenland, York, Eliot, Kittery Point and as far away as the Isles of Shoals. The residents of Kittery are to be congratulated upon the excellent fire protection they have, a new whistle, a first class auto truck, and above all an able department.

HUSTIS SEES NO HOPE TO AVOID RECEIVERSHIP

President of B. & M. Says
No New Plan Is Offered.

Boston, Aug. 21.—The opinion that a receivership for the Boston and Maine railroad is inevitable was expressed by James H. Hustis, president of the road in a statement tonight. "I see no hope of avoiding it," Mr. Hustis said. "The organization has no new plan to offer, the leased lines have not submitted any new propositions, and we have received no assurances that the note holders would consent to another extension of the notes or that the bankers would recommend it again."

The board of directors will meet tomorrow to consider the question of obtaining a further renewal of $15,000,000 in notes due on Aug. 31. These notes have already been extended several times.

Mr. Hustis said further: "It is my personal opinion that the notes will not be extended again. I see no hope for anything but a receivership. This is no threat or bluff. It is not merely a matter of extending the notes. The Boston and Maine cannot go on forever with its present unsound financial structure, nor with its physical condition as it is today."

"The question of whether the road shall go into the hands of a receiver must be decided between now and the last day of this month. It may be decided tomorrow. The directors may vote not to extend the notes, or they may leave the matter in the hands of the executive committee."

HEDDING SERVICE OPEN FOR WEEK

Rev. T. Ross Hicks, Superintendent of Dover District, in Charge.

The fifty-fourth annual campmeeting was opened at Hedding Monday morning by the opening service in the old grove, conducted by Rev. T. Ross Hicks, superintendent of the Dover district of the New Hampshire Methodist conference.

Many clergymen of the Methodist denomination were present, they having arrived for a stay during the week. The services for the afternoon included the children's meeting at 1:30, led by Miss Mae V. Granger, New Hampshire conference deaconess.

At the same hour in the grove, the Pentecostal hour was conducted by Rev. Felix Powell of South Portland, Me., he having had charge of the Pentecostal meetings at Hedding for the past six years.

The evangelistic service was led by Rev. Milton S. Reese, an evangelist from Rochester, N. Y., who preached to a large congregation in the grove at 2:45.

The people's service in the evening, held in Grace church house, was conducted by P. E. Call, of the Dover street mission in Boston, this being held at 8:30, followed by the evangelistic service by Dr. Reese at 7:45.

"Brighton," so called, which has been in existence for over 50 years or ever since the campmeetings were established at Hedding, opened for business yesterday. This place is a rendezvous for horse traders and many of them here each year, and sold, or traded. Authorities at Hedding have driven them off of the campmeeting grounds, but they find a resort each year and do business.

The county authorities look after the resort to see that the law is obeyed and Sheriff Ceylon Spinnay and County Solicitor Albert R. Hatch went there yesterday to investigate the matter.

Old animals, which are unfit for use, and in the judgment of the authorities are better off killed, are humanely put to death by the agent of the S. P. C. A. Howard O. Nelson of Portsmouth. It is a strange fact that this resort should have originated with the religious meetings, and the authorities have fought them in past years, driving them further away each year, but, as yet they never have put them out of business, and as long as the law is obeyed the county authorities do not interfere.

Large numbers of horses have passed through here during the past two days for "Brighton" and scores of them are now gathered there.

DRIVE GERMAN FORCES IN GREAT FLANK ATTACK

Russians Now Closing in on Kovel and Pinsk.-- Bothner's Army on the Stripa River Crushed.

Petrograd, Aug. 21.—By suddenly shifting its attack to the Stokhod river front northeast of Kovel, Gen. Brusiloff has caught the Germans off their guard and is driving westward for substantial gains.

Realizing that Gen. Bothner's army had been crushed, the Germans began stripping their northern front of every southwest to defend Lemberg. It was while this troop movement was under way that Brusiloff struck farther north with his right wing. His flanking attack menaces both Kovel and the German army at Pinsk.

The Russian frontal attacks upon Kovel have practically ceased. The Germans have sunk tunnels in the marshy ground west of the city. These tunnels are practically invisible to Russian aircraft and must be overcome by strategy rather than by massed infantry assaults. Consequently the line west of Kovel has remained stationary for some time.

During the fall on the Kovel front, the Russian armies under Gen. Kadon, Sakoff and Letchinsky swung westward like a compass, from Kovel as a pivot, crushing Bothner's army along the Stripa. Like the movement of a pendulum the advance was proportionately faster in the extreme south.

Expert opinion here believes that more depends upon Brusiloff's campaign than the mere stand or fall of Lemberg and Kovel. Prisoners say that the northeastern part of Hungary is being evacuated by civilians because of the Russian advance near Koronzo. The Hungarians are reported very uneasy and demanding a greater effort by Germany in the east.

Russian officers seem supremely confident that things are moving in favor of the allies, warranting the belief that sensational events are due before cold weather.

Serbian Drive in Bulgarian Right Flank.

Salonica, Aug. 21.—Bulgarian forces are engaged in sharp fighting with the Serbs on a 15-mile front, 70 miles northwest of Salonica.

The Bulgars emerged from the village of Florina and attempted an advance southward. At the same time other strong Bulgarian detachments attempted an offensive along the Monastir-Salonica railway. The Serbs drove in the right flank of the Bulgarian force from Florina, forcing the enemy back upon the town and at the same time made a vigorous attack eastward as far as Lake Ostrovo. Fighting is still going on.

Continuing skirmishes by patrols and frequent infantry engagements, in which whole regiments have taken part, are reported on the British and French fronts along the whole Greek border east of Lake Dolina. In the Balkan district particularly hot artillery struggles have occurred.

Airmen on both sides are very active. Hostile aeroplanes attempted a raid on allied camps south of Dolina, but were driven back by allied aviators.

Sarrail Undisturbed by Macedonia Attacks.

Paris, Aug. 21.—The attempted counter offensive by the German and Bulgarian forces on both flanks of the entente allies' front in Macedonia, with the apparent intention of hindering the plans of Gen. Sarrail, the entente commander, will have no effect on the execution of his campaign, it is said here.

The 4th Greek army corps, which had divisions at Sarus, at Kavala and also at Drama, fell back before the Bulgarians who are advancing in eastern Macedonia. The Bulgarians have occupied Hermaion and have crossed the Nestos (Mesta) river and advanced to Kavala.

These developments are considered of secondary importance and the allies take a hopeful view of the success of their plans.

In the fighting at Moglen the Bulgarians according to a dispatch received here, had 100 killed and 600 wounded and 13 were taken prisoners. Desperate German Attack on Fleury Failed.

Paris, Aug. 21.—The Germans made a second desperate attempt to recapture the village of Fleury, three and one-half miles northwest of Verdun, last night, attacking in force after spraying the French positions with liquid fire. The war office announced today that French battery fire stopped the attack short, inflicting serious losses on the enemy.

In yesterday's fighting north of the Somme, in which the French captured a strongly fortified wood between Guillemont and Maurepas, six German cannon were captured. Active artillery duels continued on the Somme front throughout last night but there were no infantry engagements of importance.

Practically the whole of the village of Maurepas is now in French hands as the result of Thursday's fighting, and local actions since that time. The French first captured a number of strong positions at the outskirts of the town and then drove the Germans from the remainder of the village with their artillery. German artillery made it impossible for the French to occupy the remainder of Maurepas until French lines were advanced further north of the village.

SPANISH ARMY TO BE INCREASED

Madrid, Aug. 21. (via Paris).—An increase in the Spanish army to 150,000 men on peace footing is provided for in a military reorganization bill which soon will be presented to Parliament by the minister of war, Gen. De Lague. This calls for an increase over the present force of 40,000 men. Under the new plan 65,000 men will garrison Morocco.

The reserves of the active army will permit rapid mobilization of 400,000 men. The project provides for officers sufficient for a reserve of 600,000.

FACT

Local Evidence.

Evidence that can be verified. Fact is what we want. Opinion is not enough. Opinions differ. Here's a Portsmouth fact. You can test it.

Chas. E. Oliver, barber, 13 Vaughan St., Portsmouth, says: "Long hours of standing and constant strain on the muscles of my back, caused by stooping, is what brought on kidney trouble in my case. At times I was so lame that I could hardly attend to my business and I was in misery when I did. I was also troubled by dizziness and headaches that at times became severe. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and soon the pain and all other symptoms of kidney complaint left." (Statement given July 13, 1905).

On October 21, 1915, Mr. Oliver said: "I have previously recommended Doan's Kidney Pills very widely and have never had occasion to change my high opinion of them. The benefit they have me has been permanent, as I have never had to use them for a long time."

JOHN BEAN ASSOCIATION REUNION

Will Be Held at Hampton
Beach Casino Theatre on August 30.

The 20th annual meeting of the John Bean Association will be held at the Colonial Theatre, Hampton Beach, N. H., Wednesday, August 30, and a splendid occasion is anticipated. Prominent and distinguished kindred have assured their intentions of attending and important business will be transacted. Fitting tributes to the memory of the late president and other departed members will be features of the interesting program. The expected guests include Governor Spaulding, Ex-Senator Chandler, L. Willis Bean, U. S. Treasury Agent, Dr. W. S. Bean, Jr. of South Carolina, Hon. John C. Chase, N. H., and Henry W. Haddon, New York. Hon. George F. Ryan will preside and Hon. Edwin C. Bean, secretary of State, N. H., and most of the other vice presidents from New England plan to attend.

Headquarters the previous evening will be at the Ocean House where those arriving the day before can meet others arriving early and also the committee at their service. Registrations will commence the afternoon of the 29th with the arrival of the secretary or assistant secretary and continue the next day. The meeting will commence about 10 a. m. with an adjournment for dinner at noon when an excellent menu will be material will soon become available.

Pans will be made to continue the genealogical work so well begun by the first president, the late John Drummond and his associate founders of the organization and whose great accumulation of data and other material will soon become available. Other important matters to be arranged include the celebration of the 21st anniversary, (1917); it is proposed that it be planned for Exeter, N. H., where most of the membership's ancestry originated (about 1651-47) and where the association was formed August 17, 1896. The resumption of the publication of the Register and the "proceedings" or printing in some form of much valuable material pertinent to the ancestral history, including the address by Rev. Dr. Blackpole at Haverhill three years ago upon the first American ancestor are to be considered.

HAMPTON BEACH

The week-end just closed brought thousands of visitors to the beaches and gave the dining places a business that in many cases they were not able to handle. The hotels had no room to rent and real estate men no cottages for hire, so that the resident population of the beach did not change much from the week preceding, but the transient crowds were large and accommodations for all of them out of the question.

The weather was superb and the throngs that were on the beach Sunday afternoon came by every manner of conveyance. The largest single party came on the excursion from Lacawh and Lakeport over the Boston and Maine to Portsmouth. The excursion it is estimated, brought nearly a thousand people to the beach.

Eight hundred employees of the Whitecomb Shoe Company came to the beach for their annual outing, making one of the largest outings parties of the summer. A band accompanied the crowd and made merry on the beach during the day. Dinner was served at the Casino, Hiram and Pelham. After dinner a long list of sports and a ball game were run off on the oval. The ball game was contested by the different rooms of the factory.

An automobile owned by A. G. Zeigler of Concord Junction, Mass., was struck by another machine, near the Casino yesterday afternoon. The driver of the second machine, according to the police, was intoxicated, and was ordered to refrain from running the machine further. Quite a little damage was done the Massachusetts machine. Sunday evening two machines interlocked on Ocean avenue near Dudley and White's. The mudguards were badly bent but otherwise little damage was done.

At 5 o'clock Sunday morning, Chief of Police Robert Talman was called to the residence of A. J. Shaw at Hampton where an automobile had been abandoned. No number plates were to be seen about the car but they were later found under one of the seats. They indicated that the car was the property of Eva Sloboroff of Portsmouth and Chief Talman took up the matter with the Portsmouth officers. It is believed the car was stolen and then deserted. Special Officer Arthur Rowe who was so terribly hurt when he was struck by an automobile as he was collecting toll on the Mile bridge, is recovering slowly. He is able to walk but is far from entirely recovered from the effects of his terrible experience.

Mrs. Mary A. Herrick of Thornton's Ferry is among the large number of New Hampshire vacationists at the beach.

P. A. Driscoll of Manchester is among the late registrations at the Fairview hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Foster of Manchester are among the sojourners at the beach this month.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Clement of Manchester are domiciled for a stay at the Avon.

Miss Hazel M. Ayers of Penacook has joined the ranks of the vacationists at the shore for the remainder of the summer season.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Barker of Newport are among the recent arrivals at the beach, having quarters at the Janyrin.

George Henley of Manchester was a visitor at the beach for the week-end.

Miss Corine A. Liberty of Manchester has been enjoying beach life during the past week.

WILL HAVE HEARING AT DOVER SATURDAY

Judge John Kivet has called a hearing to be held at his office in Dover next Saturday on the motion of Gen. Frank S. Streeter, of counsel of Mrs. Marguerite Paul Carpenter of Boston for a trial of the divorce action brought against her by Major Ralph G. Carpenter of Woffborough. Judge Kivet's decree granted. Major Carpenter the divorce sought.

It is probable that this hearing will be informal and will have to do with the nature and scope of the formal presentation of the motion. Associated with General Streeter for Mrs. Carpenter in the case are Walter I. Badger of Boston and Edward E. Woodworth of Concord. Senator Nathaniel E. Martin of Concord and Michael J. Sughrue of Boston were the leading counsel for Major Carpenter.

ADMINISTRATION REVENUE BILL IS TARGET FOR ATTACKS

MEASURE CALCULATED TO BRING ABOUT $205,000,000 AN-NUALLY IN SENATE
YESTERDAY

Washington, Aug. 21.—The Administration Revenue Bill was taken up for consideration in the Senate today, with vigorous opposition to the measure proposed.

Republican leaders propose to make the bill the target for political attack, while some Democrats will oppose certain features, including the wine tax section and the section on tax manufacturers of materials entering into munitions of war 6 per cent on their net profits. Senator Underwood will attack the proposals for a tariff commission and increased duties on dyestuffs, on the ground that both are undemocratic.

Chairman Simmons of the Finance Committee was ready when the Senate met to open the debate on the bill. The measure is calculated to bring in $205,000,000 of revenue annually through income, inheritance, gift, liquor, corporation stock and miscellaneous taxes.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—A rainstorm which developed in the Plains States and is moving northeast over the Missouri Valley, is bringing relief from the heat wave that has hung over the middle west since Friday, officials of the Weather Bureau announced today.

In Chicago the temperature was 92 at 10 a. m. Monday. Four deaths as a result of the heat and nine drownings were reported Sunday.

GAS COOKING IS THE BEST

The old theory that a meal could not be cooked as good by a gas range as on a coal stove has been exploded. All modern homes now use gas exclusively for cooking. Even the great hospitals where the food must be cooked in the most wholesome method, have discarded the coal ranges and are using gas. See some of the modern gas ranges in our showroom.

YUAN SHI-KAI MURDERED WOMAN AND BABE

Peking July 20. (Mail to New York)—Some ghastly stories of the last days of President Yuan Shi-Kai are now passing from lip to lip in Peking and are even finding their way into the Chinese newspapers. Between his wives and children it is said he leaves 67 mourners in his family. But few of them really lament his loss. Quarrels between them embittered his last few hours and his name is disgraced by revelations of the greed of dishonesty of the princes designate who were to have inherited the dragon throne.

But the most gruesome story is the one that tells how the old man, maddened by the desertion of a trusted general, with his own hands killed his favorite concubine and her new-born babe in the palace a few days before his death. This story is given on the authority of the Peking Gazette, the leading Chinese journal. It was related to the Gazette by an eye-witness of the palace as follows:

"It is evening. A telegram is handed to Yuan: It is Chen Qi's dispatch declaring the independence of the great province of Szechuan.

The news moves Yuan powerfully and his body shakes under the passion rising in him. His eyes grow cruel and with the telegram held in one hand like a death warrant, he passes swiftly into the chamber of his favorite concubine and slays her with the child she has lately borne him.

"Blood and the death of one he loves break the passion that might have choked him to death in a fit, and save him in a mysterious way for a few days more from the death that might befall him through his hatred of the man who failed him at the last moment.

"Those in the dead ruler's confidence say that he trusted Chen Yi greatly. It was Chen Yi who first spoke to him of the throne and who helped him to remove Yuan Hsun, now president, from the stronghold of Wuhan as well as Tsai Ao from Yunnan to Peking. He staggered under the news of Chen Yi's desertion, and his death followed fast, quickened by a mighty hatred against his late general and remorse at the death of his favorite concubine.

"Yuan's last days were troubled by incessant quarrelling among his family. He was given a great variety of medicines. The eldest son believed in foreign doctors but the other sons and concubines believed in native doctors and their drugs. The result was that the patient was dosed with all sorts of medicines.

"The fifth concubine insisted that the medicine offered by one 'Blind Joe' was the best but the fifth son said that the drugs of Pu Chang were better. The quarrel went on continuously and the advocates of the various quacks are supposed to have given the medicines they favored to the patient unknown to the others.

"Finally a foreign doctor wanted to bleed the president. This so disheartened the other sons that they asked Yuan-Ko-ti, the eldest if he wanted to kill his father. When he died there was a violent dispute, each blaming the other for his death.

"Yuan's device for nominating his successor was to write the names of three candidates from whom his successor was to be chosen and deposit them in a gold box to be opened after his death. This was actually incorporated in the revised presidential election law. The names were written on a gold plate in Yuan's own unshowy handwriting and the box was sealed up and stored in a stone room in the palace. The box was opened by President Yuan Hsun and Gen. Tann Chi-Jui, the premier, and the names they found were those of the president's eldest son and Liang Jui. The new president is said to have shown no sign of emotion at the names, but General Tuan was quite angry, especially at finding the name of Liang.

RAILROAD NOTES

Pines aggregating $350 were impounded by Judge William L. Putnam of the United States Court of Appeals at Portland on Saturday in the civil cases of the government against the Portland Terminal Company for violations of the federal statutes in respect to insufficient equipment, and the Maine Central railroad for violations relative working employees more than the prescribed hours of labor per day. There were 15 charges against the Maine Central.

Nearly 1200 people came to this city and Hampton Beach on Sunday over the Lakeport Branch of the Boston and Maine from Laconia and way stations.

The passenger traffic at the Portsmouth passenger station on Sunday eclipsed any day of the season.

When the city of Melrose some time ago requested the Boston and Maine railroad to build iron fences between the tracks at the three Melrose stations as a safety measure and offered to share in the expense of the construction the railroad officials were unwilling to adopt the proposition. Now the road is engaged in building the same fences at its own expense, not as a safety measure but in order to save time in the operation of its trains.

The new tower controlling trucks and signals in the Newburyport yard is fast nearing completion and is expected to be in operation when the winter schedule of trains comes in on the Boston and Maine.

Three men were taken from a freight steamer at Cleveland recently and are being held at the request of the Detroit police in connection with the theft of $32,000 from the Burroughs Adding Machine Company's pay car in that city three weeks ago.

Several deer on the Boston and Maine tracks at Rowley were seen by engineers of different passenger trains today.

WORLD'S OUTPUT OF PETRO- LEUM GREATEST IN 1915

Washington Aug. 21.—The world's production of crude petroleum in 1915—426,592,873 barrels—was the greatest in the history of the industry. Figures of the Geological Survey today show that the output was greater by 25,193,307 barrels than the previous record in 1914.

The bulk of the increase in output in 1915 came from the United States and Mexico, though Russia, Argentina and Japan recorded significant gains.

The United States led in production with 251,104,104 barrels, Russia came second with 65,618,062 barrels and Mexico third with 32,910,508 barrels.

APPLE GRADING LAW EFFECTIVE IN BAY STATE

NEW LAW AFFECTS ALL SHIP-PERS OF APPLES INTO MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Aug. 21.—Under the Massachusetts Apple Grading law, which is now in effect, all apples packed or repacked within the state in "closed packages," whether grown in Massachusetts or in some other state, must, if intended for sale within or without the state, be graded and branded in accordance with the provisions of the Apple Grading law.

A "closed package" is defined as "a barrel, box or other container, the contents of which cannot be sufficiently seen for purposes of inspection without opening the container."

Closed-headed and burlap-covered barrels, boxes made of close-fitting boards, corrugated paper cartons and covered baskets all come within the realm of "closed packages."

Three grades are established. "Fancy," "A" and "B," and all apples not so graded, or if so graded not branded as such, shall be classed as "Ungraded" and so branded.

The law requires the size of the smallest apple in the package to be stated in plain figures on the outside of the package where it can be seen by the purchaser. The consumer is protected from fraud by the imposition of a penalty for overgrading.

The law requires every closed package of apples to be marked in a conspicuous place on the outside with the name of the state in which the apples are grown, the grade, the quantity, also the contents in weight, measure or numerical count, the name of the variety and the name and address of the person by whom or under whose authority the apples were packed or repacked.

The primary object of the Massachusetts Apple Grading law is stated to be a bigger and more profitable orchard industry, and this is to be brought about by so uniformly grading, packing and branding Massachusetts grown apples as to establish confidence in the minds of dealers and consumers alike and create a world-wide demand for fruit with the "Massachusetts flavor."

HE FOOLED THEM ALL.

Only One Good Sailor on a Fishing Trip to the Shoals.

On Sunday last a party of Portsmouth men made a trip to the Isles of Shoals for fishing and with them was an invited guest from the northern part of the state who never before sailed on salt water. Naturally, the Portsmouth men who had been on the ocean many times expected it would be a hard day for the up-country sport but it proved to be the other way. The visitor gave them all the laugh. Every man from this city who claimed to be deep water fishermen went down and out while they stayed over the side of the boat. The day had sailed was walking the deck smoking cigarettes and enjoying the scene.
He had everything to himself that day including the food supply which he devoured and relished as much as he would at a seashore banquet.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Even if you don't care particularly for poetry, "A Mint Spy" will please you down to the ground. This entertaining novelty is at the Colonial, and the only original Bob Ott disports his versatile self in the same.
The clever Robert comes pretty close to having the best role of his career in "A Mint Spy" and to say that yesterday's audience appreciated the cleverness of his character work is putting the thing very, very feebly.
His whole company enter wholeheartedly into the bright lines of the musical comedy and it is a company finely fitted for the brilliant comedy included in those lines. The music is always with an Ott company, is beyond criticism, both as regards the quality of the rendition and the selections themselves.
The chorus, many of whom were seen here before with Ott, do not depend on their personal popularity for effect but have the best of costumes and training as assets also.
The whole clever structure of "A Mint Spy" is built on a humorous idea, developed and spread into a clean, funny musical comedy. With Bob Ott as the leading funsmith, and his better-than-average associates to aid him, he makes this piece a delight from overture to Star Spangled Banner.
Next Wednesday and Thursday he changes the complexion of the attraction to "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," and the name alone suggests the oddities of comedy possible to this play.
There is still another for the closing two days of the week so that Portsmouth fans may get their fill of comedy and music this week.
A trip to the Colonial about now is a highly satisfying diversion at a price which cannot interfere with the workings of the household to any extent. Get the Colonial habit. It makes for better tempers.
